My name is Ashanti. Nancy was special to me. We hadn't spoken in a while and I decided to search for her and this is what I found. This hurt me so bad to see that Nancy passed away. I really wish someone could tell me this isn't real. Nancy was a good friend to me. She loved her family and she loved God. She loved music and she loved to write. She used to write me letters that were so long, I didn't want to finish them. Now, I'd give anything to read 100 of those letters. I will always remember her and the memories we shared. We had so many good times together. I love love love you Nancy. You will always hold a special place in my heart.
