I remember Kenyatta when I was growing up over in Lincoln Homes when my grandmother and his grandfather were companions. I surely remember the love his family had for him! My prayers are with the family and I recommend the loving hands of our Lord and Jesus Christ doing your time of grief, Jesus is holding your hands please know his hands provides all the love, comfort, and understanding in ways that none else can! God Bless you all!

I'm going to miss my nephew Kenyatta aka Yatt. My nephew was so spoiled by my mother when he was younger.My nephew always had a big heart ❤️. I loved him very much ❤️.I stopped by to visit with him often when I could before he got sick.When he became ill I visited with him even more because I was retired by then.My nephew got save and and he attended church with me.He would tell me about Drs. that he wanted to go to so they could heal him before he got saved.I told him that God gives the Drs the knowledge to heal us but he is our healer.He held onto his faith until the end.When you ask him how he is doing he favorite words would be it's all in Gods hands.Fly High my nephew because you are now walking on those streets paved with Gold.
